

ROLES OF A MANAGER

ROLES OF A MANAGER

Managers play a crucial role in organizations, and their responsibilities can vary depending on the level of management and the specific context of the organization. Here are some key roles and responsibilities of a manager:

Planning:

- Setting goals and objectives for the team or department.
- Developing strategies to achieve these goals.
- Creating plans and budgets to allocate resources effectively.

23BAT602-Management and Organisational Bheavior/Suruthika/B-Spine/SNSCT

or the team or department. eve these goals.

Organizing:

- Structuring the team or department to achieve the goals.
- Assigning tasks and responsibilities to team members.
- Establishing reporting relationships and workflows.

Staffing:

- Recruiting, selecting, and hiring employees.
- Training and developing the team members.
- Conducting performance evaluations and providing feedback.

23BAT602-Management and Organisational Bheavior/Suruthika/B-Spine/SNSCT

nt to achieve the goals. as to team members. and workflows.

nployees. members. ons and providing feedback.

Directing:

- Providing guidance and leadership to the team.
- Motivating and inspiring employees to achieve their best.
- Resolving conflicts and making decisions.

Controlling:

- Monitoring progress towards goals and objectives.
- Measuring performance and comparing it to set standards.
- Taking corrective actions to ensure objectives are met.

23BAT602-Management and Organisational Bheavior/Suruthika/B-Spine/SNSCT

to the team. es to achieve their best. cisions.

s and objectives. aring it to set standards. e objectives are met.

Decision-Making:

- Making important decisions that affect the team or organization.
- Evaluating alternatives and choosing the best course of action.
- Balancing short-term and long-term objectives.

Communication:

- Facilitating effective communication within the team and with other departments.
- Providing clear instructions and expectations.
- Listening to feedback from team members and stakeholders.

Communication:

- Facilitating effective communication within the team and with other departments.
- Providing clear instructions and expectations.
- Listening to feedback from team members and stakeholders.

Problem Solving:

- Identifying and analyzing problems or challenges.
- Developing solutions and implementing them.
- Evaluating the outcomes and adjusting as needed.

Leadership:

- Setting a positive example for the team.
- Inspiring and motivating team members.
- Creating a positive work environment.

Change Management:

- Adapting to changes in the external business environment. • Leading the team through transitions and changes. • Implementing change management strategies effectively.

Time Management:

- Prioritizing tasks and managing time efficiently.
- Delegating responsibilities when necessary.
- Ensuring deadlines are met.

Risk Management:

- Identifying potential risks and developing strategies to mitigate them.
- Making informed decisions to minimize negative outcomes.
- Ensuring compliance with relevant laws and regulations.

Innovation and Creativity:

- Encouraging and fostering innovation within the team.
- Seeking out opportunities for improvement and growth.
- Staying current with industry trends and best practices.

Managers often need to balance these roles and responsibilities to effectively lead their teams and achieve organizational objectives. The specific tasks and emphasis on each role may vary depending on the level of management (e.g., top-level, middle-level, or front-line managers) and the industry or organization's unique needs and culture.

23BAT602-Management and Organisational Bheavior/Suruthika/B-Spine/SNSCT

tion within the team. ovement and growth. Is and best practices.

THANKYOU

