

Study this diagram and try to go over each line once without lifting your pencil off the page or crossing a line you have already drawn over.