

Lesson 5- The Table and the Chair

Answer the following

1. Who wanted to take a walk and why?
The table wanted to take a walk because he was suffering from the heat and from chilblain on his feet. A walk would let the table have a little conversation with the chair and it would also be a change of air.
2. Who felt that it was not possible for them to take a walk?
The chair felt it was not possible to take a walk.
3. How did the table convince the chair to take a walk?
The table convinced the chair by assuring him of the fact that a walk could mean no harm for both of them has many legs and they could just as well walk in two.
4. Where did they both walk about?
They both walked about the town. And trotted about in rounds.
5. How did they lose their way?
While going down an alley to reach a castle in a valley, the table and the chair lost their way.
6. Who took them back to their house?
A Ducky-quack, a Beetle and a Mouse took them back to their house.
7. What did they want to eat after the lovely walk?
After the lovely walk, the duo wanted to dine on Beans and Bacon.
8. Who danced and enjoyed until they toddled to their bed?
The Chair, the Table, the Ducky-quack, the Beetle and the little Brownny-Mouse danced and enjoyed until they toddled to their beds