

He stood, saying in great fear - he ran to one side first, then to the other.

but the exasperated his
rob. "I want my mother
, I want my father!"

A man in the waving crowd
lifted him up in his arms. asked him about what happened

Shankar

The man tried to settle him
by taking him
to the hospital and other.

Well done!

Prepare A Flow Chart For The Lesson "The Lost Child"

The boy was simply carried away by the strainbow glory of their shimmer colour.

He lost his parents.

Down from his eyes, hot and bitter.

A man approached to noddy him and console him by sitting him and talking to him.

The boy was killed with desire to possess them all

There was no sleep and he tried to look at his parents.

The boy well knew that parents will never buy the balloons.

The child watched around about and made a request.

Knowing his parents had forbidden him to hear such coarse music.

He went towards the snake-Charmer.

Asked what happened

Tried to console him in many ways but

Even after he said I WANT MY MOTHER AND FATHER

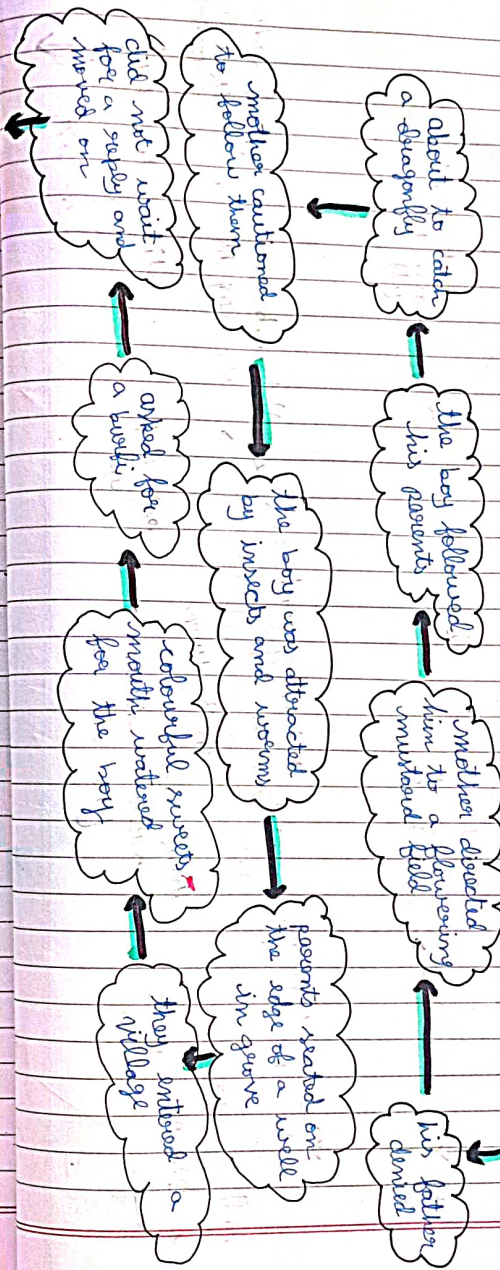

When seen after being his favorite things - he started to look at balloons, snakes and flowers.

Good night

The Lost Child

Prepare a flow chart

Festival of Spring

child was satisfied away by a stream of flowers

was amused by the snake charmer

walked away because he knew his parents would find him

made a bold request to go on the round-about a man came close to him and asked him questions

eyes turned to jelly

no trace of his parents and started to cry started reaching tried to look at his parents, but not those not those tried speaking to him so he would not cry

asked if he wanted to go on the round-about thought that he only wanted his mother and his father offered him everything he wanted

Exercises

New Presentation

The End

the child was blind to these things and fell away from his parents

the man offered sweets and flowers

the little boy only