

Data Communication Worksheet [BSS]

Across

- 3. This type of network is not limited to a geographical area, can span national and international boundaries.
- 6. A set of computers connected together for the purpose of sharing resources.
- 8. This is a protocol which governs the transmission of voice over the internet.
- 9. This topology makes use of the term token passing

- 10. Wireless transmission media used for telephones, cell phones, televisions, pagers, citizens band radios, Wi-Fi Ethernet, and Bluetooth.
 - 11. The number of components involved in data communication
 - 12. A set of rules governing the transfer of files over the internet
- Down
- 1. Used to connect peripheral devices to a computer.

- 2. Requires a line-of-sight transmission
- 4. A group of people with common interest who communicate by posting messages and replies on the internet
- 5. A wired transmission media that is susceptible to interference.
- 7. A network topology that requires a Hub/Switch