

Exercise 1

Across

2. It usually follows and describes means of meeting priorities and targets for the whole organization or subunits.
6. Many workers are already built on the basis of empowerment values, such as
8. Decisions on an organization framework are usually referred to
9. The preparation is a multi-step operation. The cycle starts with?
10. The more qualified the individual who performs the jobs should be, based on the concepts of labour and specialization, which meant that the more the quality of the job should be reduced.

11. It is a management role which involves setting goals and establishing a path to achieving those goals.

Down

1. Managers in the middle stage use this.
3. It is an overview of strategic prospects and risks, as well as of the strengths and limitations of the industry and how the business should perform successfully in its environment;
4. Ensures the performance is not exempt from expectations.
5. It's a management role requiring the establishment of the corporate framework and human resources distribution to ensure the achievement of goals.
7. It requires the professional and casual forces that you are utilizing to motivate us to take action.